2. Data processing when the app is downloaded

We would like to inform you that, when you download the app, personal data is sent to the organization that operates the app store you download the app from. When an app is downloaded, the necessary information is transmitted to the respective app store, with this information being specifically the user name, e-mail address, customer number with the app store, and individual device recognition. We do not have any control over this data processing. The organization that operates the respective app store is responsible for this. More detailed information on data processing can be found in the data protection declaration of the respective app store operator.

3. Data processing when using the mobile app

The mobile app is downloaded to your mobile device and can be used without accessing the Internet.

Some apps may require you to give permission to access the corresponding functions of your terminal in order to be able to use certain functions on the app, so it may ask for access to the storage system in order to store photos or videos to your mobile device for example, if the app offers this option. If an app facilitates data storage, it will only be stored locally.

Personal information will not be collected when you use the apps provided by us.

4. Your Rights

(1) You can assert the following rights with us concerning your personal data:

- – Right to be informed,
- – Right of rectification and erasure,
- – Right to restriction of processing,
- – Right to object to processing,
- – Right to data portability.

(2) You have the right to complain to a data protection agency about the processing of your personal data in our company.
